

$10,000,000 OF STEEL CARS FOR INTERBOROUGH

Bids on Rush Subway Order Requested From the Manufacturers.

WILL DELIVER 478 WITHOUT MUCH DELAY

PITTSBURG, Jan. 14.—The Pressed Steel Car Company of this city and the Standard Steel Car Company of Butler, Pa., have been asked by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company of New York city to submit bids on 478 steel cars to replace the wooden ones now in use in the New York subway. The amount of money involved in the order will approximate $10,000,000.

General Manager Frank Hedley of the Interborough company has been in telephone communication with the two Pittsburgh companies during the last two days. He has insisted that the order must be completed in four months.

The Pressed Steel Car Company has promised the Interborough officials that it would begin delivery of 478 steel cars in four months and finish the order in eighteen months. The standard company can begin delivery in three months.

QUACKENBUSH TO HELP "DRIVE OUT CORONERS."

The trouble between the Interborough company and the City of New York over the proposed subway cars was kept up yesterday. Lawyer Quackenbush, for the company, said that he would ask Gov. Whitman to remove Coroner Riordan on the ground of incompetency, and the Coroner says that if Mr. Quackenbush does not apologize for his attack the matter will be referred to the Bar Association.

Just when Coroner Riordan intends to call the attention of the Bar Association to the inquest he could not say yesterday. He is revolving the matter in his mind, he said.

The Interborough attorneys said they intended to show the Governor, the Bar Association and Commissioner of Accounts Wallsten how poorly matters can be conducted in a Coroner's court by sending to each a copy of the proceedings. Mr. Quackenbush in particular is down on all Coroners.

"When I was District Attorney of Buffalo," he said, "I drove out the Coroners there and I will do the same thing here. When I have started a thing I put it through."

CITY DELAYING LOOP TRAINS, B. R. T. CHARGE

Charles A. Woody, counsel for the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, said at a Public Service Commission hearing yesterday that lack of harmony between the commission and city departments was delaying the operation of elevated trains through the $200,000 connection between the Brooklyn Bridge terminal and the Centre street loop.

The company, said Mr. Woody, is anxious to relieve the public by running cars through the connection but for some serious reason can't get permission to do it. Bridge Commissioner Kracke said later:

"Such a statement is a subterfuge, and the B. R. T. knows it. The connection from the bridge under the Municipal Building is no part of the dual subway system, and under the law the Bridge Department has the right to demand rent for its use. The B. R. T. sought to get the privilege for nothing, and therein lies the trouble."

The property cost the city $400,000 and construction cost $400,000 more, and I have no right to allow the B. R. T. to use the connection without paying for the privilege."

In the course of the hearing Mr. Woody said:

"We would love to give seats to everyone during the rush hours, but we can't."

Twenty-five Passengers Describe Accident in Subway.

Assistant District Attorney Breckenridge yesterday examined twenty-five passengers who were in the subway train last week when the electric system short circuited and one woman met death. Each witness told of the train coming to a standstill, then of the fumes and the smoke and finally of being taken out of the tube by firemen and others.

The District Attorney said that there was nothing new in the stories and that he would see more witnesses today.

Colorado Girl and Man in Java to Be Married by Proxy.

DENVER, Jan. 14.—The first marriage by proxy ever authorized by the Dutch government between one of its subjects and an American girl will be performed in Denver and on the island of Java, in the Dutch East Indian group, 10,000 miles away, at corresponding hours next Wednesday night.

Miss Eugenia Campbell, daughter of the late Charles Campbell of Colorado Springs, and Harvey V. Deuel, of Brooklyn, cousin of Justice Deuel, will be principals in the ceremony, while in the city of Semarang, in the Dutch possessions, John Pieter Scholten, eldest son of Commander Pieter Scholten of the Dutch navy, retired, and a young woman whose name is unknown to his future bride will go through a similar marriage form.

Miss Campbell is a granddaughter of Alexander Campbell, founder of the Campbellite sect.

The proxy marriage is due to the fact that Scholten, general manager of the Dutch Petroleum Company in Java, is a reserve officer of the Dutch army and detained by military duty.

CIRCUS AT SHERRY'S DRAWS SOCIETY FOR TWO GORGEOUS PERFORMANCES

Amazing Amateurs Take Part in Benefit for Lenox Hill Settlement.

PEANUT PEDLERS PLEASE

Those who happened in at Sherry's yesterday afternoon or last evening probably—well, they couldn't very well help it—saw a number of young women who didn't need the red circus sashes and other swastika ring costume trimmings to attract a second look. And having looked, the lookers were lost. For the red sashes at the ticket booth gave memory a gentle jolt which became a real "primitive urge" when the car caught the music of side shows, peanuts and red lemonade, lemonade as vivid in hue and nearly as satisfying to the eye as those sashes.

And when, caught by the lure that knows neither class nor age, the visitors went up to the ballroom they found awaiting them a small group of small boys' recollections had promised. It was a real circus. To be sure, some of the best of the performers will never be seen again in such droll and delectable forms as the Lenox Hill Settlement fund needs their services—but that made it all the more worth while since there were thrills that will be repeated only "on request."

Least it be overlooked in the account of the wonders, it must be said that the Lenox Hill Settlement of 446 East Seventy-second street has a record of turning near gangsters into good citizens and of making life cleaner and better for hundreds of girls and boys for whom it is the only bright spot in a dreary existence. And any one who didn't get a chance to help along the work yesterday, and get more than they gave besides by being in the audience at the circus, has still the opportunity to do something for the settlement to-day and tomorrow and the other mornings as well.

It was estimated last night that more than $2,000 had been raised by means of the circus.

However, it was easy for the visitor to forget yesterday that going to a circus may be a philanthropy as well as a great pleasure, especially when he emerged from the elevator to hear Bert Cole of the Hagenbeck-Wallace show announce:

"From stage to stage and from cage to cage the most wonderful collection of freaks and wonders ever brought together under one roof."

Right behind him was Bill Thompson, late and next spring of the Greatest Show on Earth, impresario of the freaks, but interested—professionally and not as a plain citizen—in the work of the amateur headquarters that he deserted his post for a peep under the big top.

It was a big top, big top. The canvas stretched below the ballroom ceiling seemed to tower as majestically as did the tent of memory in Sam Jackson's arena, and the children who crowded the seats about the ring in the afternoon were no more genuine and generous in their applause than the audience of their elders who saw the two evening performances, and danced between and after.

There was "Marvellous Maude, Madam Eating Male." Maude is no amateur, although her heels fly out with the gay abandon of one who gets joy out of her work, and no one was able to qualify her interest—professionally and not as a plain citizen—in the work of the amateur headquarters that he deserted his post for a peep under the big top.
